

Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Occupational and Environmental Hygiene
2022 Position Announcement

ACGIH® and AIHA® are in the process of searching for an Editor-In-Chief (EIC) for the Journal of Occupational and Environmental Hygiene (JOEH), a peer-reviewed publication devoted to enhancing the knowledge and practice of occupational and environmental health and safety represented by the two organizations.

The EIC has responsibility for ensuring timely publication of high-quality manuscripts of interest to the occupational and environmental hygiene community in JOEH. Towards this goal, the EIC must: remain abreast of trends in occupational and environmental hygiene while updating the JOEH scope and content accordingly; and communicate respectively with authors, reviewers, and readers. JOEH receives over 300 manuscript submissions per year via an electronic system (ScholarOne), and on a day-to-day basis the EIC reviews submitted manuscripts, assigns peer-reviewers and makes determinations of acceptance, revision and rejection. The EIC is a non-voting member on the JOEH Board of Directors and submits semi-annual summary reports regarding the status of submitted manuscripts. The EIC meets with the JOEH Board of Directors at least twice per year.

The EIC must have:

- national recognition for his or her professional accomplishments in the field of occupational and environmental hygiene;
- a record of publication in peer-reviewed journals that demonstrates in-depth knowledge of a field of scientific inquiry and research methods relevant to the scope of the JOEH;
- experience writing, reviewing and editing technical documents, such as peer-reviewed manuscripts or scientific reports; and
- familiarity with the objectives and operations of ACGIH and AIHA gained through membership and active participation in one or both organizations.

This is a one-year renewable contact position starting on or around November 1, 2022.

This position will remain open until filled. For full consideration, applications should be received on or before June 30, 2022. Application instructions and materials are available at: bit.ly/joeheic
